BUILDING STILL INCREASES IN NORWICH

Even with cold weather and a certain halt of building operations in Norwich and vicinity the number of building permits issued from the office of Fire Marshal Howard L. Stanton still maintains the standard set during the year. During the past nine months more building has been done in Norwich than in any one year for the past seven years. With a railroad strike starting builders in the face of contracts are still being taken and work continues with increased activity. Should a railroad strike become effective next week it would create no alarm to the building trades although it would make it difficult to secure lumber, brick, cement, steel and other building materials. These materials according to a trade paper are increasing in demand and prices—especially in the lumber market—and are developing a tendency to rise.

Henry Pukalus has the contract to erect a frame garage on Smith avenue on the property of Anna P. Hero. The garage is to be 21x21 feet with hip roof and stone foundation. The exterior finish will be in red cedar shingles, sides and roof.

Howard A. Spaulding has awarded the contract for a two-story frame house to Pukalus and Baldwin. The house is to be 26x50 feet. The foundation will be of stone and the construction of the building will be of frame. The exterior finish will be of clapboards and green stained shingles. The interior finish will be in hardwood, floors and wainscoting. There will be seven rooms and bath.

Two applications for permission to build have been received during the past week. One application is from August Nadeling for a shed on North street. The shed is to be 12x18 feet and will be of N. C. pine.

The other application is from William Scher who is to build a dwelling house at 31 Spring street, the building to have a brick and stone foundation and the construction work is to be of frame. The roof will be covered with composition shingles. The contract has not been awarded.

The contract for the additions at the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium has been awarded to P. F. Sweeney. The contract calls for an addition to the dining quarters and an addition to the dining hall. In the addition to the sleeping quarters there will be twelve rooms. The construction will be of frame and the floors of hardwood with hardwood trim. The exterior finish will be in red cedar shingles.

The work on the storehouse on Cove street for the Yantic Grain and Products Co. has been completed and already the building is being occupied. The contract was given to P. F. Sweeney.

Work has been started on the Lehigh High school. The excavation work was completed last week and the masonry work on the foundation and the deepening was started on Monday. Contractor P. F. Sweeney of this city is doing the work.

Architects have prepared plans, which are now out for figures, for a double house to be erected on Montauk avenue. It will be of frame construction, 46x43 feet, with two wings, 14x15 feet. The exterior will be stuccoed on metal lath. There will be two apartments on each floor, of six rooms each, making four apartments. All modern improvements, such as electric wiring, interior phones, tiled baths, and steam heat are provided. The owner, whose name is not divulged, is now receiving estimates.

Contractors have started work on a store and apartment block at 265 Williams street, for Samuel Freeman, 52 Douglas street. The plans call for a frame structure, 46 feet on Williams street by 50 on Bayonet street. There will be two stores on the first floor, with plate glass fronts and two apartments of six rooms and bath on the second. The exterior of the first story will be finished in stucco and the second with shingles. There will be steam heat and all modern improvements to cost $5,000.

Frank Kaplan, Hartford, has started work on four cottages for Cohen, Kaplan & Carter on Park avenue. They will be of frame construction, 24x28 feet, built on a stone foundation. The plans call for improvements to cost $4,000.

A Meriden builder has been awarded the contract to build a cottage dormitory at the Connecticut College for Women, from Mrs. C. G. R. Vinal of Meriden. The plans for the dormitory are by a New Britain architect.

AMERICANIZE AMERICANS.

URGES REV. R. E. SHORTELL

The vigorous address of a former curate of St. Patrick's church, Norwich, was printed by the Hartford Sunday Courant in a special dispatch from Ridgefield as follows:
Rev. Richard E. Shortell, addressing an audience of 3,500 people in Putnam park, called for the Americanizing of "Americans who for a price paid in foreign coin are seeking to rob our children of appreciation of their liberty and their respect and reverence for the founders and preservers of their country by attempting to teach them with voice and pen that the war of 1776 that we fought for our independence and liberty was a mistake on our part, the war of 1812 that we fought for our rights and the freedom of the sea was a blunder, that Washington, Adams, Jefferson and Israel Putnam and their compatriots were not heroes and patriots to be respected and revered but only mere creatures of circumstances whom it is best to forget."

Today the leaders of the world are racing to the ports of America," said Rev. Mr. Shortell, "carrying their thousands that are fleeing from the poverty, the distress and misery of a broken and crumbling Europe, and the warning cry is sounded throughout the land: Let us Americanize the aliens seeking entrance at our gates; let us teach them that to this land of freedom and opportunity they may come as our forefathers came, seeking life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, gave in return all their ability of mind, strength of body, loyalty of soul and spirit and the warning cry is sounded throughout the land: Let us Americanize the aliens seeking entrance at our gates;
